

From e-mail on 4/11/19: "We found reactive storm slabs and touchy windslabs near ridgelines. We kicked off a small windslab in 4th of July from the top of the couloir. Attached is a photo of the crown to give you a depth perspective. It was about 6 feet across and 3-4 inches deep."

Advisory Region
Northern Madison

Avalanche Details: Skier triggered wind slabs in Beehive
Northern Madison, 2019-04-12