

Small wind formations in the Bridgers

Date

Wed, 03/06/2024 - 11:30

Activity

Skiing

Toured up on the ramp yesterday. In wolverine bowl, another skier and I both popped small wind pockets (6" deep at the most) about half way done the slope on a north facing roll. We also saw lots of snow transport up high on the ridges all day, as well as some slight warming on direct south faces.

Region

Bridger Range

Location (from list)

Wolverine Bowl

Observer Name

Jay Alford