

This slope produced an avalanche in late December on facets about 1 foot (30 cm) above the ground. Those facets have become very weak depth hoar that now has a 3 foot slab of snow on top of it and could produce another avalanche. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Northern Madison
Longitude
-111.38W

Latitude
45.33N

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Fri Feb 7, 2014GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sat Feb 8, 2014

Northern Madison, 2014-02-07